

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

ANTHONY BATEMAN (UK) is Consultant Psychiatrist in Psychotherapy at Barnet, Enfield, & Haringey Mental Health Trust; and Honorary Senior Lecturer at University College and Royal Free Medical Schools. His special interest is the treatment of personality disorders.

JOHAN BLOMBERG (Sweden) is a licensed psychologist and has a PhD in psychology from Linköping University. He was the manager of the data collection and data analysis of the Stockholm Outcome of Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis Project and is currently a senior partner and organizational development consultant at Provins fem in Stockholm.

PETER FONAGY (UK) Peter Fonagy, PhD FBA is Freud Memorial Professor of Psychoanalysis and Director of the Sub-Department of Clinical Health Psychology at University College London. He is Director of the Child and Family Centre at the Menninger Foundation, Kansas. He is also Director of Research at the Anna Freud Centre, London. He is a clinical psychologist and training and supervising analyst in the British Psycho-Analytical Society in child and adult analysis. He chairs the Research Committee of the International Psychoanalytic Association, and is a Fellow of the British Academy.

INEZ GITZINGER (Germany) PhD, is a clinical psychologist and Adult (and Child) Psychoanalyst working in Freiburg. She was trained in adolescent psychoanalysis at University of Ulm. She is a member of DGPT, the Committee of the German Association of Adolescent Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy and Psychosomatics.

RALF GRABHORN (Germany) MD is a specialist in psychotherapeutic medicine. He is Assistant Medical Director of the Department of Psychosomatic Medicine, Hospital of the Johann Wolfgang Goethe University in Frankfurt. His main research fields are eating disorders, inpatient psychotherapeutic treatment, qualitative and quantitative methods.

DOROTHEA HUBER (Germany) MD PhD is a psychoanalyst and Assistant Medical Director at the Institute and out-patient-clinic of Psychosomatic Medicine, Klinikum rechts der Isar, University of München (Munich)

BURKARD JAEGER (Germany) PhD works as research fellow at the Hannover Medical School. He is trained in psychoanalytically-oriented, behavioural and group psychotherapy. He is engaged in training in psychotherapy and supervision. Further areas of special interest are psychotherapy research concerning eating disorders and coping strategies with tinnitus.

HORST KÄCHELE (Germany) MD is a Specialist in Psychotherapeutic Medicine and a psychoanalyst (IPA). He is full professor and Chair of the Department of Psychotherapy and Psychosomatic Medicine at Ulm University; he also directs the Centre for Psychotherapy Research in Stuttgart. He is a member of the Society for Psychotherapy Research. His main research fields are psychoanalytic process and outcome research, psychosocial issues of bone marrow transplantation; and the treatment of eating disorders.

GUENTHER KLUG (Germany) is a psychoanalyst and Assistant Medical Director at the Municipal Hospital of Munich-Harlaching, Department for Psychosomatic Diseases and Psychotherapy.

PETER KÖHLER (Germany) is a clinical psychologist trained in behavioural therapies. He has been a staff member of the Department of Psychosomatic Medicine of the Medical University of Lübeck, Germany and has undertaken research on eating disorders. He now works in the Holstein-Clinic, a hospital for alcohol addicts and in a private psychotherapeutic practice.

WERNER KÖPP (Germany) MD is an internist and psychoanalyst, assistant professor and a member of the medical faculty of the Free University of Berlin, and a member of the German Psychoanalytic Society (DPG). He is the author of several papers about eating disorders and he received the Christina Barz award for his research in the year 2000.

PETER MALEWSKI (Germany) PhD works as research fellow at the Hanover Medical School. He is engaged in psychotherapy research, mainly on the methods and statistics of a variety of different studies.

KINGSLEY NORTON (UK) is a Consultant Psychotherapist and Director of Henderson Hospital, Surrey. He is also a Reader in Psychotherapy at St George's Hospital Medical School, London University and a former professional member of the Society of Analytical Psychologists, London.

CAMILLA RENLUND (Finland) is an Adult Psychiatrist and a member of the research team of the Helsinki Psychotherapy Study, a randomized psychotherapy outcome study. She also works as a psychoanalyst in private practice in Helsinki and is an Associate Member of the Finnish Psycho-Analytical Society.

PHIL RICHARDSON (UK) is a clinical psychologist and qualified as a psychoanalyst with the British Psychoanalytical Society. He is Professor of Clinical Psychology at the University of Essex and Head of Psychology at the Tavistock & Portman NHS Trust where he is also Director of the Psychotherapy Evaluation Research Unit. He is currently Editor of Psychology and Psychotherapy: Theory, Research and Practice (formerly the British Journal of Medical Psychology).

ROLF SANDELL (Sweden) is Professor of Clinical Psychology at Linköping University and is a member of the Swedish Psychoanalytic Society. He is the Director of the Stockholm Outcome of Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis Project, and currently has several other ongoing research projects in psychotherapy and psychological treatment.

SILKE SCHMIDT (Germany) PhD is a psychologist, now at the Department of Medical Psychology at the University Hospital Hamburg-Eppendorf. Her main research field is the clinical application of attachment theory related to coping with medical disorders.

BERNHARD STRAUSS (Germany) is Professor of Medical Psychology and a Psychoanalyst. He is the Head of the Department of Medical Psychology at the University Hospital of the Friedrich-Schiller University at Jena (Thuringia). Currently he is President of the German College of Psychosomatic Medicine.

JÖRN VON WIETERSHEIM (Germany) PhD, Clinical Psychologist, is Professor for Psychosomatic Medicine in the Department of Psychotherapy and Psychosomatic Medicine at the University of Ulm, Germany. He is the head of the day treatment and the outpatient units in this department. His main research fields are eating disorders, chronic inflammatory bowel diseases, and psychotherapeutic process and outcome studies.

FIONA WARREN (United Kingdom) MA is a Psychologist in research at Henderson Hospital therapeutic community and St. George's Hospital Medical School in South London. She was an author of the successful bid to the UK Department of Health to replicate Henderson Hospital in two new sites and a member of the Steering Group for this unique service development. She is Chair of the Research Subgroup for this new national service. Her research interests are in personality disorders, self-harming behaviours and treatment and research methods in the evaluation of psychological health care